A world infused with colors

Life is colors. This is how we see the world at PANTONE. And we experience the joy of working with colors every day.

Working professionally with colors, we recognise that no two people see colors in exactly the same way. In fact, it was with this insight in mind that we invented the PANTONE MATCHING SYSTEM® over 50 years ago.

Today, this is used daily all over the world, by art directors and designers to infuse their work with color – and ensure that their choice of color is true to their original idea.

Through the collection of PANTONE lifestyle products made by Copenhagen Design, we want to share our love of colors and enable you to express yourself through colorful accessories like a coffee cup in vibrant yellow, a key chain in daring pink or a water bottle in classic dark blue.

In the emerging world of sustainable practices and corporate social responsibility, knowing and being in control of your supply chain is increasingly essential. And Copenhagen Design wishes to sustain this focus throughout our production process.

It is about the choices we make, about being consistent. And transparent. We require of our manufacturers that they adhere to applicable laws and regulation consistently and conscientiously. We monitor the auditing processes and follow up on a regular basis.

Product sustainability

Some of the choices we make include finding sustainable materials for our products, such as the plastic product Tritan. It contains:

- no bisphenols
- Neither BPA nor BPS

Making it the safe choice for our clients – and for the end users of each item produced.

Another example is our manufacturer in Thailand who produces all our ceramics.

They focus on:

- Wastewater management
- Changing all fixtures in the factory to LED lighting.

And they have recently converted as much as a third of their electricity consumption to solar power by installing their very own solar panels on the roof of the facility.

As a part of our sustainable journey, we have made the choice to recycle our packaging to help reduce the volume of waste sent to landfill. This means that all orders made on our webshop will be sent in recycled packaging.

Working environment

Sustainability is not only about products and processes, but also about the people who work for us. It is a perpetual process of improvement, but all our manufacturers are also audited on a regular basis when it comes to living and working conditions for their employees, from safety in the workplace to worker's rights and environmental regulation.

At Copenhagen Design we welcome and applaud all improvements and continue to monitor and support the journey towards a more sustainable future in all its aspects.

A tribute to the founder of the modern color system

Johannes Itten (1888-1967) was a Swiss expressionist painter, designer and teacher and in many ways the theorist and originator behind modern color definition.

With his color wheel, he succeeded in depicting the connections between the colors in an easily understandable way by defining three primary colors: Red, Yellow and Blue.

These colors cannot be mixed from any other colors. However, all other colors can be mixed from the three primary colors. When the two primary colors are mixed together in equal parts, secondary colors are created, Green (Yellow + Blue), Violet (Red + Blue), Orange (Yellow + Red). The opposite colors on the wheel are called the contrast colours, so yellow is the opposite of purple, meaning that when the colours are next to each other they optically stand out. You can explore this by placing purple grapes in a yellow bowl or red strawberries in a green bowl.

Johannes Itten was one of the first masters at the Staatliches Bauhaus in Weimar, appointed by Walter Gropius from 1919 until 1923, and later founded the Advanced School of Textile Art in Berlin. In 1934, the school was closed by the NSDAP, and Itten then became the director at the Kunstgewerbemuseum (Museum of Applied Arts) in Zürich. He joined Max Bill's Ulm School of Design (HfG) in 1955. In 1961, he published the groundbreaking book The Art of Color and said: "Colors are forces, radiant energies that affect us positively or negatively, whether we are aware of it or not."

At Copenhagen Design we developed this Pantone Soup Bowl as a tribute to him and his work.
